

AUTUMN · WINTER 2026

FOREIGN RIGHTS

AUTUMN 2026

Droemer · Knauer · NON-FICTION

DROEMER*

KNAUR*

VERLAGSGRUPPE
Droemer Knauer*

Irina Scherbakowa

The Key Would Still Fit. Moscow Memoirs

- Nominated for the German Non-Fiction Prize 2026
- Irina Scherbakowa delivered the laudatory speech for Anne Applebaum, winner of the 2024 Peace Prize of the German Book Trade
- For readers of Catherine Belton, Sabine Adler, and Lyudmila Ulitskaya

Rights sold to: Italy: Mimesis

November 2025 · 328 pages

Irina Scherbakowa, born in Moscow in 1949, is a multi-award-winning historian and publicist. She worked as an editor for Literaturnaya Gazeta, was a Fellow at the Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin (Institute for Advanced Study), and is an honorary member of the Zentrum für Literatur- und Kulturforschung Berlin (ZfL). In 2022, the NGO Memorial, which was liquidated by Putin, was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize. Scherbakowa currently lives in exile in Tel Aviv and Berlin.

»Russia's Future Is as Dark as It Has Been in a Hundred Years!«

In her Moscow memoirs, Irina Scherbakowa reflects on the brief years of awakening and freedom during Perestroika. It was during this period that she co-founded Memorial, the human rights organisation dedicated to coming to terms with the legacy of Stalinism. She provides a harrowing account of Russia's seemingly unstoppable slide into dictatorship. In 2022, Scherbakowa was able to leave for Israel just in time. But giving up is not an option – following its liquidation, Memorial is being re-established in Berlin.

“This book, with all the courageous people—both great and small—who feature in it, is not just brilliantly written. It gives us hope.”

The jury on the nomination for the 2026 German Non-Fiction Prize

Further Titles

Marietta Slomka, Hannah Brinkmann

Nights in the Chancellor's Office. Everything You've Always Wanted to Know About Politics

- Serious, well-researched, entertaining: a unique graphic novel about our democracy
- More than 150,000 copies sold of Nachts im Kanzleramt (At Night in the Chancellor's Office)
- For readers of Sapiens (Y. N. Harari), On Tyranny (T. Snyder and N. Krug) and The Three Lives of Hannah Arendt (K. Krimstein)

October 2026 · 128 pages

Marietta Slomka holds degrees in economics and political science. For 20 years, she has been the chief anchor of the heute journal news programme and one of the leading figures in communicating political events. For her work, she has been awarded the prestigious Grimme Prize and the German Television Award, among others. In 2022, her number-one bestseller Nachts im Kanzleramt (At Night in the Chancellor's Office) was published by Droemer.

Hannah Brinkmann, born in 1990, studied graphic storytelling in Hamburg, Tel Aviv and London. She is one of the most prominent voices in the comic scene. For her debut, she received the Dortmund Comic Prize (2025); her work Zeit heilt keine Wunden (Time Heals No Wounds) was a finalist for the Berthold Leibinger Prize. Brinkmann draws for publications including the Tagesspiegel newspaper and the Federal Agency for Civic Education (Bundeszentrale für politische Bildung).

Germany's Best-Known News Anchor Explains Politics: The Number-One Bestseller Now as a Graphic Novel

How does our democracy actually work? Together with the renowned illustrator Hannah Brinkmann, Marietta Slomka explains the political system of the Federal Republic of Germany. She embarks on a visually stunning journey from the historical settings of our Basic Law (Grundgesetz), behind the scenes of the news world, and all the way into the Berlin Reichstag. We accompany her in her work as a journalist, understand how laws are made, and dissect the mechanisms of power to defend the foundation of our freedom against attacks. Based on her bestseller, Marietta Slomka succeeds in offering a completely new perspective on everyday political life on both a large and small scale, making it clear: democracy concerns us all.

Further Titles

Marie Meimberg

I Love People. A Plea for Us All

- The book we all need
- High-quality edition featuring photographs, illustrations and hand-lettering
- For readers of Matt Haig's The Comfort Book, it combines emotional vulnerability with accessible non-fiction to provide a comforting anchor in times of crisis

November 2026 · 144 pages

© Boris Breuer

Marie Meimberg is a bringer of hope. The cultural scientist and artist has won numerous awards for her work spanning art, politics, science and media, including nominations for Germany's prestigious Grimme Award as well as the International Emmy Award. As a producer and activist, this interdisciplinary expert in emotional storytelling shaped the German online community with quality and integrity – until she created the bestselling series BiBiBiber hat da mal 'ne Frage (BiBiBeaver Has a Question). Since then, she has been writing and illustrating these non-fiction children's books, as well as directing and producing the music for their audiobook adaptations. Together with her close friend and co-author Mai Thi Nguyen-Kim, she was awarded Germany's Science Book of the Year 2024 prize, among other accolades.

Why We Shouldn't Lose Hope in Humanity

Misanthropy and anxiety about the future – no wonder we are doubting the world and ourselves. Wars, crises and propaganda are writing a narrative of hopelessness. Marie Meimberg writes against this current. Through touching illustrations and inspiring prose, she dismantles this narrative. Ich liebe Menschen (I Love People) is a powerful, artistic and scientific plea for us all. With her blend of evidence and empathy, Meimberg paints a portrait of humanity that rebels against hatred in a way that is surprising, clever and emotional – and utterly convincing. The award-winning storyteller translates measurable facts and sound research into accessible and clear text and illustrations, artistically combining them with real-life stories: pigeons, neuroscience, fighting Nazis at the kitchen table and the freedom of skinny-dipping in the sea. It is captivating, joyful and deeply encouraging.

Paula Lichte

Unyielding. Female Authors in the Resistance Against Fascism

- The debut by the winner of the prestigious German Radio Award
- For readers of Leonie Schöler and Caroline Criado-Perez's Invisible Women

November 2026 · 304 pages

© Iona Dutz

Literature Meets Resistance: Learning From Courageous Women

»Get involved – it's your Earth at stake!« sings Erika Mann. Mascha Kaléko and Grete Weil compose poetry and write against antisemitism and dictatorship. Irmgard Keun sues the National Socialists. And Paula Schlier infiltrates Hitler's propaganda editorial office. Yet their resistance has largely been forgotten. Paula Lichte embarks on an intensive search for traces. And she asks herself: What can we learn from these courageous women today?

Paula Lichte, born in 1993, is a freelance journalist and presenter. As the host of the podcast Ein Zimmer für uns allein (A Room for Ourselves) for the Bavarian Broadcasting Corporation (BR), she brings generations of women into conversation. She was awarded the German Radio Award in 2024 for the four-part podcast Paula sucht Paula (Paula Looks for Paula) (BR). She writes regularly for the pop-cultural radio programme Zündfunk (BR).

Yulia Vershinina

Joan of Arc and Mata Hari Meet to Plot a Revolution. The Unexpected History of Female Power

- As both a dominatrix and a local politician, Yulia Vershinina knows the practical side of the theory
- For readers of Beklaute Frauen (Robbed Women) and Rebecca Solnit's Men Explain Things to Me

November 2026 · 304 pages

From Cleopatra to Merkel: How Women Throughout History Have Pulled the Strings

When do I have power over others? Is power attractive, or is it those who hold it? In order to exercise power, do women have to become men? By combining her knowledge of cultural history with her experiences as a local politician and a dominatrix, art historian Yulia Vershinina explores the secrets of female power. Her book is the ultimate guide to countering the power plays of alpha males – and a feminist treasure trove full of surprises.

Yulia Vershinina, born in Leningrad in 1987, came to Germany at the age of almost sixteen as a quota refugee (Kontingentflüchtling). She studied art history at the Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf. However, she decided against a career in academia or museums and currently works as a dominatrix. In 2020, Yulia Vershinina was elected to the city council of Neuss – where she also lives – representing the satirical political party DIE PARTEI.

Dunja Batarilo

Different. Forever. Love, Responsibility and One's Own Life – We, the Siblings of People with Disabilities

- Dunja Batarilo is the sister of a man with Down's syndrome and hosts the successful podcast Für immer anders (Forever Different)
- 3–6 million people affected in the German-speaking world: the book that gives them a voice

November 2026 · 240 pages

Dunja Batarilo studied medicine, philosophy and sociology, and works as a journalist focusing on topics such as education, sustainability and the environment. She writes for publications including Die Zeit, SPIEGEL and Deutschlandfunk Kultur, and is an editor for the future section of the weekly taz. She is the younger sister of a man with Down's syndrome and lives with her husband and daughter in Berlin.

The First Book for Siblings of People with Disabilities

Siblings of people with disabilities grow up with unique experiences. They often take on responsibility at an early age and put their own needs aside. Dunja Batarilo has a brother with Down's syndrome herself. With deep empathy and nuance, she describes her formative experiences from childhood to the present day, while also giving a voice to others who share this path. An important and deeply moving book that offers affected siblings the invaluable reassurance that they are not alone in their unique reality.

»For as long as I can remember, there has been this feeling of being different from everyone else.«

Vanessa Gerbeth

I'm Going Out Anyway. Living with Social Anxiety

- A psychologist and fellow sufferer providing concrete guidance for dealing with social anxiety
- Huge social media following: 1.1 million on TikTok and 188,000 on Instagram
- Filled with practical tips, concrete emergency strategies and scientific explanations

September 2026 · 224 pages

© Dirk Spath Photography

Vanessa Gerbeth, born in 1999, holds a master's degree in psychology. The psychologist, also known by the pseudonym »Vaneschko«, underwent three years of depth-psychology-based psychotherapy herself due to her social phobia. Today, she channels her creativity and humour into videos, sharing her life and how she manages this disorder with over 1.1 million followers on TikTok and 188,000 on Instagram.

Do It with Anxiety – But Do It!

Vanessa Gerbeth was severely bullied for years. Psychological and physical violence led to an anxiety disorder, which she has now successfully managed thanks to therapy. As both a psychologist and someone who has experienced it firsthand, she takes readers along on her therapeutic journey and provides a comprehensive insight into daily life with social anxiety. In doing so, she combines autobiographical experiences with accessible psychological language and her deep expertise. Above all, Vanessa wants to show fellow sufferers what they can do themselves in a similar situation and what coping strategies can look like. With great empathy and competence, she opens up pathways to self-empowerment and self-efficacy.

Ulrich Ott, Jörn-Marc Vogler

Mental Strength Instead of Stress. The Scientifically Founded Meditation for a Resilient and Meaningful Life

- The currently most complete introduction to meditation
- By mental health expert Jörn-Marc Vogler and neuroscientist Dr Ulrich Ott
- Practical 3-step method for both beginners and advanced practitioners

August 2026 · 320 pages

Jörn-Marc Vogler is a mental health expert, entrepreneur and founder of 4minds. He trained in mental techniques from various traditions. Out of conviction, he firmly integrated meditation, breathwork and mindfulness into his life. He now wants to systematically make this knowledge accessible to other people.

Dr Ulrich Ott is a qualified psychologist and has been researching altered states of consciousness and meditation at the University of Giessen for over 25 years. His research focuses on the effects of meditation on brain function and structure. He also works as a lecturer in further education for meditation, yoga and psychotherapy.

Stress-Free Forever: The Neuroscientific Approach to Meditation

Mental health expert Jörn-Marc Vogler and neuroscientist Dr Ulrich Ott combine classic meditation techniques with modern psychological and neuroscientific findings in their innovative approach to form a 3-step model. Anyone who meditates according to this model not only finds an entry into meditation, but also develops a means of self-therapy for negative emotional and thought patterns. Fears are thereby alleviated, toxic behavioural patterns are broken. The 3 steps consist of basic training to strengthen concentration and body awareness, further in tracking down deeper emotional and mental patterns, and finally in finding the inner centre in order to lead an authentic and free life in deep connection.

Further Titles

Manfred Spitzer

Loneliness: The Undetected Illness. Painful, Contagious, Deadly

- An alarming wake-up call from bestselling author Manfred Spitzer
- A highly topical debate book: Manfred Spitzer explores why loneliness makes us ill and the destructive impact it has
- Total sales of Manfred Spitzer's books exceed 500,000 copies
- Including a new foreword

November 2026 · 320 pages

Rights sold to: Croatia: Nakl. Ljevak; Italy: Garzanti; Netherlands: Atlas Contact; Romania: Humanitas; Slovenia: ARA

Prof Dr Dr Manfred Spitzer is a neuroscientist and was Chair of Psychiatry at the University of Ulm, where he headed the Psychiatric University Hospital, until his retirement in 2023. Visiting professorships took him twice to Harvard University and once to the University of Oregon. As a non-fiction author, he has published the bestsellers Digitale Demenz (Digital Dementia) (2012), Einsamkeit (Loneliness) (2018), Künstliche Intelligenz (Artificial Intelligence) (2023) and Plastik im Kopf (Plastic in The Brain) (2026) with Droemer Verlag.

The Number-One Risk to Life

Loneliness can strike anyone: young and old, men and women, rich and poor. And those who are lonely are more likely than others to suffer from cancer, heart attacks, strokes, depression and dementia – this is the conclusion reached by numerous scientific studies. They all share the same message: loneliness is deadly!

“Manfred Spitzer doesn’t regard himself as just a scientist but he primarily sees himself as a doctor who wants to help directly.”
aerzteblatt.de

“Loneliness is not just a symptom, but is in itself also an illness.”
Manfred Spitzer

Further Titles

Franziska Rubin

The 20 Secrets of Nature for Healthy Organs. What Secretly Ages the Heart, Liver and Co. and What Strengthens Them

- The first health guide from the bestselling author featuring a unique 7-organ check
- Includes integrated self-tests and scientifically sound applications from the field of naturopathy
- Total circulation of Franziska Rubin’s works: over 800,000 copies sold

October 2026 · 336 pages

Dr Franziska Rubin is a holistic doctor, TV presenter and bestselling author. From 1998 to 2015, the qualified physician hosted the weekly health magazine Hauptsache Gesund (Health Matters) on the German public broadcaster MDR. She is a recipient of the Kneipp Health Prize and a sought-after speaker. Her particular passion is to provide competent advice and help to as many people as possible and to inform them about the fascinating possibilities of naturopathy and complementary medicine. More than 100,000 people follow her on Instagram.

These 7 Key Organs Determine Your Well-Being in the Second Half of Life

»You are only as old as your weakest organ,« says bestselling author Dr Franziska Rubin. In her new health guide, she explains the seven most important organ areas that play a key role as we age. Anyone who understands the central significance of these seven organs and the secrets associated with them will clearly get more out of life for longer. For every organ area, there are self-tests, the most important medical check-ups that should not be overlooked, clear dos and don’ts – and specific, easy-to-implement applications from the field of naturopathy. This makes it possible to identify personal weak points and counteract them with holistic natural medicine – for a long and vital life.

Further Titles

Julia Fischer

"What Is Actually True Now?". Navigating the Health Chaos - Online and Offline

- The expert provides a scientifically sound explanation of what constitutes a healthy life
- »Marie Kondo for your health« – decluttering the excess, focusing on the few things that truly matter

September 2026 · 256 pages

Born in 1984, Dr Julia Fischer is a medical doctor, journalist and presenter with an insatiable curiosity for medical and scientific topics. Explaining these in an expert yet entertaining manner is her greatest passion. Since 2019, she has been a highly successful medical influencer on Instagram (155,000 followers) and, since 2021, has hosted the programme Doc Fischer on the public broadcasting network SWR/ARD. The ARD YouTube channel ARD Gesund mit Dr. Julia Fischer (ARD Health with Dr Julia Fischer) has over 480,000 subscribers. Dr Julia Fischer lives with her family in Berlin.

Finally, Clarity: The Renowned TV Doctor Shows How to Truly Stay Healthy

»Our tap water is highly toxic! Ultra-processed foods will send you to an early grave! You should take supplements every day!« In a world where health information surfaces by the minute, many people feel unsettled because advice often contradicts itself. This is exactly where Dr Julia Fischer comes in. The well-known TV doctor finally brings clarity to what is truly healthy. She explains why we fall for fake facts, how we can better expose them and, ultimately, how to recognise reliable sources. Afterwards, she provides her readers with the medical facts and tips they actually need to lead a healthy and active life. Furthermore, this book strengthens trust in our own intuitive perception and connection to our bodies.

Further Titles

Steffen Barth

The Belly Fat Burden. The Simple Method to Make Your Stomach Flat and Your Back Pain-Free

- The first holistic guide showing how to permanently get rid of belly fat and back pain
- Packed with proven self-help exercises and nutritional recommendations
- For readers of the holistic abdominal health approach in Giulia Enders's Gut.

December 2026 · 224 pages

Steffen Barth is a physiotherapist and the developer of the medical product Sanotape. The expert in the field of rehabilitation has been active in this sector for over 40 years. His main goal is to help people improve, restore and maintain their health. Barth runs his own practice and works alongside an interdisciplinary team of specialists and trained therapists according to his self-developed concept. His 2024 book Die Reha-Revolution (The Rehab Revolution) became a bestseller.

The Holistic and Proven Success Programme from the Renowned Rehab Expert

Belly fat is more than just a cosmetic issue – it is a major trigger for back pain. The constant weight in the abdominal area forces the body into a painful swayback and overloads the spine. While conventional medicine often only treats symptoms, the revolutionary method of rehab expert Steffen Barth tackles the problem at its roots. He demonstrates how sufferers can free themselves from back pain by specifically targeting its cause – muscular imbalances triggered by belly fat. Supported by the wisdom of Traditional Chinese Medicine, his new guide delivers the most effective exercises for self-healing.

Further Titles

Ilona Daiker

What Remains Is Every Moment. How I Found Life in Saying Goodbye

- A profound story about farewell, grief, the meaning of life and the power of friendship
- The trending topic of healing stories – narratives that transform our lives: For readers of Charlie Mackesy's The Boy, the Mole, the Fox and the Horse and Toshikazu Kawaguchi's Before the Coffee Gets Cold
- A beautifully designed edition featuring 11 stunning illustrations

October 2026 · 192 pages

Ilona Daiker first came into contact with Buddhism during her German studies in Berlin. Fascinated by Far Eastern arts of living and healing, she dedicated herself to Traditional Chinese Medicine and Shiatsu after completing her degree. Alongside her work as an alternative health practitioner, she also became active as an author, copy editor and editor for various publishing houses in Hamburg in the early 1990s. In 1998, she moved to Munich, where she currently lives and works as an editor and freelance author. She has written several books, including the bestseller Gelassen wie ein Buddha (Serene Like a Buddha) and Der Tempel in den Bergen und das Geheimnis der Selbstliebe (The Temple in the Mountains and the Secret of Self-Love).

»In the End, There Is Not Only Grief, but Also Deep Gratitude for Every Moment Lived«

Hanna and Eva are friends who have been there for each other for a lifetime – sometimes closer, sometimes more distant. When Eva receives a diagnosis of pancreatic cancer, she asks Hanna to accompany her during this final, difficult time. For the first time, Hanna is confronted with her own mortality, which she had always pushed aside. An end-of-life doula is by her side, as well as Dora, whom she meets at the hospice and who shows her, through her wisdom, what it means to live in the moment and with gratitude. After Eva's death, Hanna is deeply grateful for the experiences she was able to have through end-of-life care. She has learnt that death is a part of life, and that it is all about standing up for your own wishes and dreams, and spending time with the people you love.

Further Titles

Elke Rutzenhöfer

Adieu, Ella. A True Story of Wanting to Hold On and Having to Let Go

- Elke Rutzenhöfer writes about the devastating loss of her daughter Ella
- The book stands out for its extraordinary narrative power, which is brutally honest and gripping
- Featuring a short foreword by Rafik Schami

August 2026 · 144 pages

© Matthias Kinder

Elke Rutzenhöfer, born in 1959, studied German language and literature, philosophy, theatre studies and Protestant theology, graduating with a Master's degree in literature and theology. She holds a PhD on Augustine. She initially worked as an editor in a Stuttgart-based theological publishing house; then from 1994 at Wichern-Verlag in Berlin, serving as its managing director from 2001 to 2025. For seven years, she was also the publishing director of the edition chrismon imprint. Ella, whom Elke Rutzenhöfer writes about in her book, is the youngest of her three children.

On Wanting to Hold On and Having to Let Go

Elke Rutzenhöfer's daughter Ella fought her way back to life after a brain tumour and resumed her university studies. But then she suffers a relapse. Mother and daughter are left with only a few months to grasp the unspeakable, before Ella falls asleep forever surrounded by her loved ones and in her mother's arms. A fate that leaves one speechless – yet Elke Rutzenhöfer finds the words in this profoundly personal book. Words for the incomprehensible suffering, the unbridled anger and the bitterness she feels. And for a mother's almost incomparable love for her child: »I could feel what it is like when you want to give up your own life for that of a loved one. That is an existential truth I can still immerse myself in today.«

A true story of wanting to hold on and having to let go, which captivates through its literary quality and emotional depth. A testament to profound love and those tiny glimmers of hope that make it possible to go on living.

»The grief over the death of a loved one is immense. Elke Rutzenhöfer is able to portray this grief over the loss of her young daughter Ella in a way that is credible, honest, gripping and at times even humorous. I wish such a catastrophe upon no one, but I highly recommend everyone to read this book.« – Rafik Schami

Young Ho Kim

Don't Go with the Flow. Why It Pays Off to Swim Against the Tide in Yoga

- The classic yoga path rubbed the wrong way – by the »rebel of yoga«
- Internationally successful: »Inside Yoga« and its founder Young Ho Kim (more than 120,000 followers)
- A courageous, honest and creative journey towards a practice that faces the present day
- For readers of Mark Singleton (Yoga Body) or Jessamyn Stanley (Every Body Yoga)

November 2026 · 196 pages

© Yonggaub Kwak

Born in South Korea in 1976, Young Ho Kim is an internationally renowned yoga teacher and trainer who has been driving the evolution of yoga for over 20 years. In 2007, he founded the Inside Yoga studio in Frankfurt and developed the Inside Flow style in 2008. His modern, anatomically correct yoga style is characterised by lightness and a readiness for change, encouraging students to find their »inner guru«.

Anna Herz, born in 1990, is an internationally known yoga teacher, trainer and author. She holds a Master's degree in Journalism and Communication Science and worked as an editor for a renowned sports and lifestyle magazine before discovering her passion for yoga. Today, she lives in Frankfurt and travels through Europe, Asia and the Americas as a trainer for Inside Yoga and Inside Flow.

Bold and Modern Yoga Wisdom Beyond Physical Postures

How can the practice and philosophy of yoga evolve in a world of change and crisis – remaining vibrant, creative and contemporary? The well-known »Bad Boy« of yoga takes readers on a journey along the classic Eight-Fold Path, whose signposts often appear outdated to him and which he reinterprets, sometimes radically. Along the way, he shares his personal spiritual development and allows us to see the vast landscape of yoga through his eyes. In doing so, he casts a critical eye over the yoga scene and demonstrates how important it is to sometimes swim against the tide, to question old traditions and to develop one's own truly authentic path.

Amanal Petros

42.195 Kilometres. My Long Run to Freedom

- A moving autobiography about elite sport, home and integration
- Amanal Petros is the German record holder in the half marathon and marathon, as well as World Championship runner-up in the marathon
- For readers of Alexandra Popp, Neven Subotic and Andre Agassi

August 2026 · 328 pages

© Erick Forester

More Than a Sport: Running Star Amanal Petros on Integration and the Pressure of Winning

Amanal Petros is the first German runner to reach the absolute top tier of international middle- and long-distance running. His extraordinary talent was discovered purely by chance. At the age of 16, he fled from Ethiopia to Germany. Within just a few years, Amanal Petros rose to the pinnacle of German and European athletics, setting German and European records and winning several medals at European and World Championships. For Amanal Petros, running has always also been a necessity to support his family, who still live in Ethiopia. In his autobiography, however, he does not only share the story of his career and his love for running, but also describes his arrival in Germany as a refugee. The deeply personal and moving story of an exceptional athlete in elite German sport who is as endearing as he is impressive.

Amanal Petros is a German track and field athlete and holds the German record for the half-marathon distance. He was born in Eritrea and fled the war with his family to Ethiopia. At the age of 16, he came to Germany, where his running talent was discovered. He is a multiple German champion, has won several medals at European Championships and became the marathon silver medallist at the World Championships in Tokyo 2025.

Mara Pfeiffer is a freelance journalist and author. Together with Alexandra Popp, she co-authored the SPIEGEL bestseller Dann zeige ich es euch eben auf dem Platz (Then I'll Just Show You on the Pitch).

AUTUMN · WINTER 2026

Thank you for your interest in our titles.
If you have any questions or need further material, don't hesitate to reach out.

You can easily contact us via email.

We're more than happy to assist and look forward to potential collaborations.

Best regards

ELISABETH WIEDEMANN | FOREIGN RIGHTS

DROEMER*

KNAUR*

foreignrights@droemer-knaur.de

VERLAGSGRUPPE
Droemer Knaur*